Protect Cats from Lethal Lilies

Lilies dangerous to cats include:

1. Easter lily
2. Tiger lily
3. Rubrum lily
4. Japanese show lily
5. Day lily
6. Stargazer lily
7. Asiatic lily

A cat may vomit, lose its appetite, or become lethargic within a few hours of ingesting a toxic plant. If these symptoms occur, see your veterinarian immediately.

Penn Vet’s Ryan Hospital provides comprehensive services and certified specialists to help care for companion animals.

Dr. Lillian Aronson, Professor of Small Animal Surgery, founded Penn Vet’s Feline Renal Transplantation Program in 1998. To date, Dr. Aronson has successfully completed over 170 procedures.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY

Penn Vet’s Emergency Service is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year.

Call 215-746-8911 or visit Ryan Hospital at 3900 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

www.vet.upenn.edu

Asiatic lily  Day lily  Stargazer lily  Tiger lily